Today Public View powers their integrated performance report (IPR)

Public View helps reveal important comparative measures to provide a clear picture of the Trust's performance to others in the ICS and more broadly across the country.

" For some software you're always wondering if it's really adding value to your organisation. That's never been the case for us with Public View. We have other bench-marking tools but you need to be a data analyst to use. That's not Public View, the tool is very intuitive for people to pick up "

John Taylor, Senior Information Manager

" There's no solution in the market like it, by pulling together a solution that leverages publicly available data it becomes an irrefutable truth "

Simon Evans,

" A real strength is its ease of use, it is 10 times easier than anything else. On likelihood to recommend it's a 10/10 – and I never say 10! "

Introducing the Public View Report Pack

The most efficient way to create NHS performance reports

Designed to streamline the reporting process, Public View Report Pack provides senior healthcare managers with an efficient and effective way to visualise, share, and communicate performance data.

With the ability to automatically generate comprehensive and visually appealing reports, this tool will save you time and reduce the burden of regular, manual report creation, so managers can focus on acting on the insights.

Report Pack provides a consistent and standardised format for performance reporting, enabling easier comparison of data across departments, services, and committees. Reports can be updated and refreshed with the latest data at any time, in minutes, as often as you need. Report Pack is only available to users of Public View software.

Public View

" Public View provides us with context, by putting our performance in relation to others. It's great for spreading best practice – if one team is doing good things we can connect them to those that are struggling.

If we see a different hospital in our region doing better than us, we can try to connect with them and learn "

Alex Whitfield,
Chief Executive of Hampshire Hospitals NHS Trust
